It is our pleasure to present the ILT (Group) 2022 Year in Review.

COVID-19 has continued to impact all aspects of our organisation over the last year. The Omicron variant in particular has been far more difficult to navigate than previous variants, most noticeably because the level of government support provided to offset the restrictions imposed on our industry has been comparably weaker.

Despite these significant challenges our unique social enterprise model has been maintained, enabling us to continue to support the community of Invercargill. One highlight we're particularly proud of is reaching the incredible milestone of 200 million dollars returned through grants and donations.

Our very purpose is for our community and we're immensely pleased to share this achievement with our great city. The continued support we have once again received is always appreciated, but even more so during these remarkable and challenging times.

We look forward to sharing the next milestone of The Langlands opening, and some great southern hospitality from our team, in the coming months.

Note from the Chair

Faced with significant challenges and financial results that have been notably tainted by Covid-19, it is encouraging to reach our latest funding milestone of $200 million back to Invercargill. This achievement would not be possible without the enthusiasm and commitment of the 600 strong ILT team.

The resilience of our entire organisation has been tested more than ever this year. That we have not only survived, but are now beginning to thrive again, is testament to the commitment and excellence from every member of our ILT family.

Every person across our organisation, both past and present, has played a vital role in accomplishing this milestone of $200 million in Donations. We are very grateful for the commitment you have shown to ILT and the community that we serve. Ka pai tō mahi/thank you for all of your hard work!

Over $6.8 million given back to the community to our new CFO

Warm Welcome to Bharat Guha

We are pleased to welcome our new CFO Bharat Guha. Bharat joined the team in late 2021, coming from Southern Lakes English Language School where he was CEO. Bharat has a strong connection to the Southland community through his 20 years at the Southern Institute of Technology (SIT) as Deputy CE Corporate/CFO. In this role, he was one of the architects of the SIT Zero Fees scheme.

Bharat has a passion and commitment for Invercargill, and we look forward to him bringing his excellent strategic and commercial acumen to our organisation.

Farewell to Neil Affleck

At the end of 2021, we bid farewell to Neil Affleck our Chief Financial Officer (CFO).

Neil had a remarkable career with ILT, spanning over four decades. He has been involved with many significant developments over this time. This includes the renovation of several establishments, providing financial expertise to the scoping and building of The Langlands and being a major part of the $200 Million we have given back to the community in grants and donations. He is a stalwart of our organisation and a regular contributor to the community in many other ways too. We wish him all the best for the next chapter.

Financial performance in Brief

Covid has once again challenged our ability to operate at full capacity. The disruption to the financial year ended up being a lot worse than the year prior, as a variety of Government enforced rules and restrictions were applied across our businesses that negatively impacted trade.

This flowed through in to our overall group performance. Although sales were higher by $3.78 m or 4.5% in comparison to the year prior, the final pre-tax profit result for the year was $4.79 m, $2.5 million down from the previous financial year.

This was driven by two key factors;

- 1 Government enforced lockdown and subsequent rules and restrictions that were very prohibitive for the hospitality industry, which negatively affected 8 months of the financial year.
- 2 Limited financial support from Government in comparison to the year prior, even though Covid restrictions were more onerous and longer lasting than the year prior.

We were not able to apply the same level of Covid-19 mitigation measures as we had done in the previous year. This was due to a combination of reasons, not least of which was ensuring we didn't restrict Donations any further than we had previously.

Once lockdown hit in August we again implemented a values based approach, ensuring our number one priority was to guarantee and protect the income of our 600 strong ILT family, and communicating this as quickly as possible. We know the certainty that this provided was appreciated by all our staff during such an unsettling time.

The Langlands build has continued. The reduced interest income and the addition of mortgage interest payments that this major development has created were forecast, although it is important to note the impact these areas have also had on our profit result.

Despite the ongoing effects of the global pandemic, during this year we have returned over $6.8 million back to the community. This is a pleasing result as, even in this most challenging of years, it is an increase on the year prior and tangible evidence of our commitment to grow donations back to pre-Covid levels as quickly and sustainably as we can.

Board, Executive and Management continue to do everything they can to manage the impact of the changing alert levels and restrictions, to maintain a strong level of community funding.

Our forecast for the coming year is cautious, however with The Langlands due to open soon and our other businesses trading close to pre-Covid levels we remain cautiously optimistic that the more recent positive sales trend will continue through the year ahead.

*Please note once the audit process is completed our group financial performance for the year ended 31 March 2022 will be available.

ILT FOUNDATION

ILT Foundation's key purpose is to distribute grants generated through the gaming machines, located within nine ILT venues, to benefit the city of Invercargill and its residents.

In the 15 years of operation, the ILT Foundation has returned over $87 million in grants to a variety of non-profit organisations and charitable trusts including health and welfare agencies, education, arts and amateur sports.

Grants returned to the community for the year ended 31 March 2022 totalled $4,726,950.

A lean organisational structure provides the platform to minimise operational costs to maximize returns to the community. Capital expenditure has been heavily reduced due to Covid.

ILT Foundation has always recognised gaming as a sensitive product, acutely aware of the social responsibilities.

Gambling harm awareness and harm minimisation remain priority focuses for ILT Foundation.

We proactively seek out information on resources and research on new technologies available that could be integrated into venues to assist us and our venues with our commitment of care to keep players safe.

Saving lives in our community

OTAGO RESCUE HELICOPTER TRUST

If you've looked up recently, you may have seen the Otago Rescue Helicopters en route to Southland Hospital.

The team have been making this lifesaving helicopter journey since 1991, covering everywhere from Oamaru through to Stewart Island and the sub Antarctic Islands.

Their scope includes accident and medical emergencies, inter-hospital retrievals as well as a small number of search and research operations. This service connects people to the best possible care, transferring patients to Dunedin and Christchurch for specialist treatment.

It's not a service you envisage needing yourself, but that's exactly what happened to our board member Suzanne Prentice. Months after learning more about the Otago Rescue Helicopter Trust, through their successful funding application process, she required their services. She suffered a heart attack and was airlifted to Dunedin Hospital for emergency care.

"I never imagined I'd need their services. They do an incredible job and I'm so grateful for their help," said Suzanne.

"I have no doubt they have saved many lives over the years and I'm delighted ILT is able to support this highly skilled team that goes above and beyond."

The service is on call 24/7, ready to respond to serious emergencies across a vast and challenging geographical region.

Martin Dippie, chair of the Otago Rescue Helicopter Trust, said the Trust is grateful to the funders for their support.

"It will go towards purchasing new equipment that will further enhance the stunning rescue helicopter service that covers the Otago and Southland region," said Martin.

With Southland now accounting for 30% of all completed missions, this service is undoubtedly essential for the community of Invercargill. ILT Foundation, along with local funders Community Trust South and Aotearoa Gaming Trust granted funding that will go towards equipment and ongoing operational costs.

"We rely on community funding to support the ongoing operation of the service and to assist with purchases of high-tech equipment and development of IFR (instrument flight rules) routes," Dippie said.

"Some of the current funding will be utilised to replace and upgrade the night vision goggles. These were a world-first for rescue helicopters when introduced here and have enabled many more patients to be rescued – saving many lives across the lower South."

The Langlands update

The story so far...

From its inception, The Langlands has been designed to be more than just a hotel. It has been developed with the community in mind, with bespoke areas that are easily accessible to locals and visitors alike. The five eateries and bars will add vibrancy to our inner city and have plenty of local flavours.

And, when the doors open in August 2022 you'll get the chance to see the local connections and experience The Langlands in Waihopai.

At Brew'd cafe you'll be able to enjoy a bespoke coffee blend created by local company, Mint Roastery. It doesn't come any fresher than Farm Fresh Milk based in nearby Woodlands, who will be supplying Brew'd with their milk on tap.

Several local graphic designers have added their own creative flair and style, to create individual brand identities for each of the different food outlets. Invercargill based artist Trudy Burdon's pieces, inspired by the importance of connection and community, adorn the walls of the rooms. Neatly framed by local business Cameo Framers

The beautiful interior has been carefully curated by local designer Lynn Gray, finishing touches in the rooms include Ohope NZ made woollen throws and toiletries from Still Botanics.

The Langlands story is one of collaboration from design and demolition through to the build. Its opening will be the culmination of many years of hard work for ILT, Leigh's and their contractors. But, ultimately, it wouldn't be anything without our amazing team, who can't wait to share some of their famous hospitality with you soon.

Shining a light on scholarships

ILT Scholarship recipient Madison Flannery has her sights set on improving the country's human rights.

Madison Flannery has always had a passion for helping people, she has even dedicated her studies to it. She is in her second year of a Bachelor of Laws and a Bachelor of Arts (majoring in Development Studies and International Relations).

Outside of the classroom, Madison has taken the opportunity to get involved in the wider law community through the school's Human Rights Justice Committee which helps refugee families get resettled in New Zealand. Madison relishes the opportunity to help people in need and learn from older law students at the same time.

"Overall, I am just loving my time at Victoria University. I have grown so much as a student but also as a person." Madison said.

"I am so grateful for your support, the scholarship has been a massive help in my journey and has allowed me to follow my dreams."

"I am very lucky to come from such a wonderful place as Invercargill where teams like the ILT support young people like me. Thank you so much."

The eyes and ears of the inner city –

INVERCARGILL COMMUNITY PATROL

You may have seen the Invercargill Community Patrol (InCP) car cruising the streets of Invercargill during the weekends.

This group of volunteers dedicate their Friday and Saturday nights to helping build safer communities. They work closely with the Invercargill Police and provide observational support, effectively acting as an extra set of eyes and ears on the streets.

InCP is made up of 17 committed individuals that come from all walks of life, just like the people they look out for. One thing this group of volunteers all have in common is their desire to help the community.

The longest-serving member Graham Jordan, or Mr J as he's affectionately known, is a retired school caretaker and sports coordinator who loves seeing his former students.

"Being able to say hello and connect with them is really rewarding. I love doing something for the community and helping make everyone feel safer," he said.

Local funding is vital for this group as they receive no national funding. ILT and Community Trust have come together to fund the purchase of the new car. Local companies Rothbury Insurance Brokers cover car insurance and HW Richardson, through their company Allied Petroleum, cover the ongoing fuel costs.

InCP president, Brian Dunick said former secretary and treasurer of InCP, Andrew King was a key driver behind the fundraising effort.

"Like many volunteer groups, we rely on community funding to be able to provide our patrol service. Without the help of community funders such as ILT this wouldn't be possible," Mr Dunick said.

The new patrol car bears a striking resemblance to the NZ Police Patrol cars, with similar yellow and blue colouring. This signwriting is standard across the Community Patrol's National network and helps ensure the car is easily identifiable to the public.

On an average night, a patrol covers 80km, which is over 4100 km annually so it's essential to have a safe and reliable car. The new vehicle means the volunteers can continue to monitor the streets and provide much needed assistance to the Invercargill Police force.
