2025 IN REVIEW

80 YEARS

OF SUPPORTING

Our Community

Welcome FROM THE ## Board Chair & Chief Executive

We are pleased to present the ILT (Group) 2025 Year in Review.

As with so many of these post-COVID years, this financial year has been a standout for the challenges we have had to face. The cost of living has hit our industry hard and clearly showed through in all areas of our business.

The first six months of the financial year were particularly difficult, and we entered the back half of the year almost $1 million, or 29%, down in pre-tax profit compared to the same point in the year prior.

Our strong recovery in the second half of the year stemmed largely from a surge in conferences and national events hosted in Invercargill, almost all of which our funding helped secure for the region. Highlights included the National Pipe Band Championships, the largest gathering of its kind in New Zealand, the BMX Nationals and NZ Evergreen Men's Softball Tournament, alongside the NZ Marching Championships which you'll read more about further on. These events were vital in drawing visitors and revenues from outside the region, offsetting reduced local spending.

Thanks to this turnaround, we finished the year with a profit before donations and tax of $7.01 million, an improvement of $391k or 5.91% in comparison to the year prior. In the current economic climate, this is a result to be proud of.

This momentum saw ILT deliver $3.485 million in Donations to the community, a 6% lift on last year, as part of the total

$8.872 million distributed by the ILT Group. These grants supported a wide range of groups and initiatives across the community that are detailed in this report.

ILT's efforts to promote Invercargill as an events destination continued, which brought tangible benefits for the city, as reflected in the vibrant events calendar and thousands of visitors over the past summer. Our team undertook national direct sales and participated in key trade shows such as TRENZ and Meetings to keep Invercargill top of mind for the tourism and events industry, securing valuable business that the whole community has benefitted from.

We are mindful that market conditions are evolving rapidly but despite these challenges, the strength of ILT lies in the ongoing support of our community. By choosing to dine at our restaurants, buy from our bottle stores, stay at our hotels and motels, and celebrate in our bars, you play a direct role in enabling us to give back.

As we close out our 80th year, we remain proud of our shared history with this city and all we have achieved together. Looking ahead, the future of ILT is strong, a strength built on the enduring loyalty and trust of the Invercargill community, our shareholders. Thank you.

This year has again highlighted the commitment and teamwork of our ILT whānau. To each and every one of you, thank you for your dedication and hard work throughout the year.

As we celebrate ILT's 80th anniversary, we've been reflecting not just on the organisation's milestones, but on the important contribution of our people. Over these eight decades, ILT has returned more than $225 million to projects and organisations that make a real difference in our community, including close to $9 million this year alone.

Our people remain at the heart of everything we do. With staffing numbers around 700 and a low turnover rate compared with industry standards, ILT continues to be recognised as an employer of choice in our region. The expanded training and development opportunities you've embraced are building strong career pathways and helping our people realise their potential.

Thank you again for everything you do for ILT and for the community we're proud to serve.

Stepping Up: Southland Shines at the National Marching Championships

In March this year, ILT Stadium was filled with the sharp, rhythmic beat of boots stomping perfectly in time. 37 teams, along with their officials, descended on Invercargill for the National Marching Championships, bringing people from across the motu to compete and connect.

This is a sport with a proud history of inclusion, offering a place for every age group. This year's Nationals saw Under 13s, Under 18s, Seniors and Masters vying for various titles. Younger marchers in the Introductory and Open Free Choice grades also played a special role, proudly marching as flag bearers.

Marching Southland's Publicity and Promotion Officer Sheree Hall said the event was the culmination of many months of work for the organising committee.

"We'd had a practice run with the South Island Champs the season before, which meant we'd already ironed out the creases and everyone knew their role. They're an incredible bunch of people who worked so hard in the lead up to the champs," said Sheree.

"The whole weekend really did exceed our expectations. The feedback has been fantastic — and you know you've nailed it when there are no complaints from the board," she said.

The success was due in part to the outstanding host venue.

"Everyone really enjoyed ILT Stadium Southland — it's a great facility with plenty of capacity for spectators. It was wonderful to see so many people come in to watch, some for the first time."

For Sheree, this year was especially meaningful. Back in 2017, while attending the Multicultural Food Festival, she and her daughter wandered into the velodrome, where Marching Southland was hosting the New Zealand Marching Championships. Her daughter stopped to watch the display, and that moment sparked an interest that eventually led to her to lace up her own boots. In 2025, she became part of a championship winning team.

The 2025 event had more spectator capacity than ever and was free to enter thanks to ILT's generous funding support.

"We're incredibly grateful to ILT for their support, it meant there was no cost for people to come along and experience the excitement. Who knows, it may have been the moment that inspires the next generation of marchers," Sheree said.

The weekend ended on a high with local teams Hokonui storming to victory in both the Under 13 and Under 18 grades, securing back to back titles for the latter, and earning a rare 13/13 Caliper Award.

The 2025 Nationals will be remembered as one of the biggest and best - that will keep Southland marching forward for years to come.

called it a "fantastic addition" for players, fans, and their wider community.

Hato Hone St John's Community Engagement Coordinator, Tracy Kilkelly, says she is incredibly proud of the programme.

"It's always wonderful to see the difference these partnerships make," Tracy said. "Every location, every AED, every training—together, it adds up to lives saved."

"We encourage everyone to download the AED Locations app, so you know where the nearest device is. But always remember—call 111 first in any emergency," she adds.

For information about AED locations, visit the AED Locations website or download the app.

When it comes to saving lives, partnership is everything. For nearly two decades, Hato Hone St John and Group ILT have joined forces to expand Invercargill's network of bright yellow Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs) ensuring critical devices are more accessible than ever.

In 2024, Invercargill welcomed its 80th public AED through this community partnership and fittingly during ILT's 80th anniversary year.

The bright yellow AED now stands outside Ascot Four Square on Tay Street, returning to a familiar and vital spot after the previous unit expired. It's also the last stop for Hato Hone St John's health shuttle to Dunedin.

Store owners Tracey and Graeme Neilson were delighted to join the Hato Hone St John programme and get a new AED on their store front.

"When we took the expired AED down, it was amazing how many people asked about it," says Tracey. "We didn't realise how many lives it impacted until it wasn't there. It's great to have it back and know it'll be properly maintained."

This long-standing community partnership between Hato Hone St John and Group ILT has been quietly adding to the network across Invercargill since 2007.

Funding for this programme means devices aren't just installed, Hato Hone St John also oversees maintenance, including battery changes, pad replacements and regular servicing, ensuring every device is always ready when it's needed most.

ILT President, Paddy O'Brien has nothing but praise for Hato Hone St John and the vital work they do.

"Their dedication and expertise make this programme possible, and we're truly grateful for all they do," said Mr O'Brien.

And the programme is still going strong, with the 81st AED recently installed at Oreti Park, where Rugby Southland

CELEBRATING

OF BEING FOR

Our Community

On 1 July 2024 we officially turned 80 and we couldn't have done it without our community behind us. From humble beginnings in 1944 with just four businesses to the 23 we have today, our story is interwoven with the community we serve. Your ongoing support and loyalty have helped us grow and give back.

Over our 80-year history we've given over $225 million back to our community, building facilities, supporting schools, and strengthening clubs.

Matey We're Eighty

Our friends at Emerson's brewed a special limited-edition ale just for our anniversary—poured citywide in a toast to 80 years of ILT and Invercargill stories. We celebrated with happy hours at all our bars alongside our bottle stores and hotels who served up birthday cake and other treats.

Fireworks Spectacular at Rugby Park

Even the wild weather couldn't dampen our Party in the Park! Local legend Sam Cullen rocked the stage, the Stags played hard on the field, and fireworks lit up the night. Huge thanks to the Southland Stags and everyone who braved the elements to celebrate with us. Who knows maybe we've created an annual tradition...

Gala Dinner – A Night to Remember

Our Gala Dinner brought together past and present board members, managers, and community partners for a fantastic evening of good food, excellent entertainment, and shared memories. It was a time to reflect and genuinely thank everyone who's been part of our story.

80 AEDs for Invercargill

What better way to celebrate our 80th birthday than by gifting our community something lifesaving? Through our community partnership with Hato Hone St John the 80th automated external defibrillator (AED) was installed in Invercargill. There are now 80 defibrillators that are part of this programme dotted across Invercargill, helping keep Southland safer, now and into the future.

Our 80th year was more than a celebration. It was a thank you to the city that has shared this journey with us.

Cheers to 80 years!

COMMUNITY PROJECTS

Come to Life

Two major community projects that we've long supported opened their doors in 2025; the culmination of years of planning and dedication.

In March, the Southern Charity Hospital officially opened, a legacy project created by Missy and Blair Vining after Blair's courageous battle with terminal bowel cancer. Determined to overcome the 'postcode lottery' of healthcare, the couple established the Southern Charity Hospital Trust to ensure people in the South could access the care they deserve.

From the outset, the community's support was remarkable. In February 2020, ILT came onboard gifting the Clifton Club Inn as the hospital's future home. A pivotal contribution that fast tracked progress by years and potentially millions of dollars. The popular Pack the Park matches, "buy a brick" campaign, and countless hours from local groups, businesses, and individuals, kept momentum strong.

Now, Blair's dream has become a wonderful community asset. It turns out Southlanders can do anything, even turn a beloved pub into a lifesaving hospital.

Not long after, the Hawthorndale Care Village welcomed its first residents. With a café, theatre, library, and thoughtful design, it's a truly special place for people living with dementia. In 2021, Group ILT committed $495,000 to support the design concepts for what is now the South Island's first-of-its-kind dementia care village.

More recently, an additional $500,000 from Group ILT has funded a bespoke call system that keeps residents safe while helping them to live as normal a life as possible. Hawthorndale offers a community-centred approach to care, moving away from the traditional hospital model.

Both of these projects show what's possible when our community gets behind a great idea and ILT is proud to have played its part in helping them take shape. However, their success is thanks mainly to the passion of the dedicated boards and teams involved, along with the commitment of everyone who calls this region home.
